IMPERIAL QUARTO. BINGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PROBUNCIATION.

An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the ___ Daily Press Office, Hongkong. . For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extense. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the sucof body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins having arrived from the above Ports. Consigness and vacant spaces which have heretofore charac-To illustrate the vast scope of the work the

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. Neither the Captains, the Adents, nor the To parties resident in England and interested Owners will be RESPONSIBLE for any in China it cannot but be invaluable operation-

Some statements recently made on behalf of the Foreign Minister: leave something to be desired on the score of severe accuracy. It is said they are united. No doubt sacrifices have been made in order to ensure an outward show of harmony, but it is known to be hollow, and that is the true reason why the Ministers of the Tsung-li Yamen treat their common representations so slightingly. It is further said the Foreign Ministers have dropped the Audience Question for this year. Unfortunately it is the Audience Question that has dropped them. They worried and fretted at it in spite of rebuffs, until they were at last roughly shaken off by Prince Ching in a way that left them no ground to stand upon. It is further said that the Ministers are concontrating their efforts on the punishment of the infamous Chou Han. Had this been true, he would have been punished long ago. Some of the foreign diplomatists may be sincerewent to his rescue and drove Mr. Stripes away of the foreign diplomatists may be sincerewith hoes and spades and loud cries.
